

Wood Pasture

Ted Green

1.Ancient

2.Part of our history and culture

3.Rich in wildlife

4.Disappearing

A scene of 14,000 years ago ... or 14 hours ?

Valuable hunting areas

Wood Pasture - a unique combination of man, animals and trees

Sustainable, historic, cultural system
One of the most natural of all wildlife habitats

The thorn is the mother of the oak

Found in every corner of Europe

Ludlow
FOOD CENTRE

www.ludlowfoodcentre.co.uk 01584 856000

Bromfield, Ludlow, Shropshire SY8 2JR

FILIPPO BERIO
Mild & Light
TASTING
OLIVE OIL

TESCO Organic mi-skim milk

EXPERIENCE CLUB
CÔTES DU RHÔNE

Waitrose
DUCHY organic
FARMHOUSE CHEDDAR

almonds

Campo Viejo
RIOJA

Campo Viejo
RIOJA

Two tier agriculture

Multiple use for

- fruits and seeds
- meat, clothing and dairy
- wood, fuel
- leaf fodder
- wildlife
- tourism

Agro-woodpasture not agroforestry

A landscape photograph showing a wood-pasture. In the foreground, there is a lush green field. In the middle ground, several large, leafless trees with intricate branch structures stand prominently. The background consists of a dense line of trees, some with light green foliage, under a pale, overcast sky. The overall scene is serene and natural.

Since the Dawn of Man, wood-pasture has been part of our evolution

Ancient, unique, sustainable... irreplaceable

Or?

The choice is ours.....

